Aston University Workshops Inspire Year 12 Students

Year 12 students enjoyed a series of insightful workshops delivered by Aston University, aimed at preparing them for higher education and beyond. The sessions covered the benefits of pursuing higher education, explored study skills essential for transitioning to university life, and provided guidance on employability, helping students understand how to make themselves more marketable in their future careers. The workshops were interactive, with students engaging in discussions and activities to deepen their understanding of these critical areas.
